JHSSC | JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY of SOUTH CAROLINA

In Their Own Words: Stories from South Carolina History is the 2021 contest sponsored by the Jewish Historical Society of South Carolina (JHSSC). This essay/media contest is an opportunity for youth ages 12-16 to hear stories from the past about growing up Jewish in South Carolina, to capture those stories in a creative format, and to win cash prizes.

Contest Entry Guidelines

The contest is open to Jewish youth ages 12 to 16 currently living in South Carolina.

There are two parts to creating this year's contest entry:

- Interview a Jewish adult who grew up in South Carolina.
- Produce a creative representation of one of the stories that person tells you.

Process for creating a contest entry

1. Identify a family member or community member you would like to interview, who grew up Jewish in South Carolina (parent's age or older).

- The interview subject is your choice and could be your parent or other family member, a family friend, or someone you know from synagogue or other Jewish activities (such as a religious-school teacher). Please check with your parents to "okay" the person and to help arrange the interview.

2. Interview your subject about stories from their youth, particularly how being Jewish played a part in their lives. (Helpful interview guidelines with sample questions start on page 7)

- We suggest capturing the interview on audio or video, as you may want to listen/watch again while you're working on your contest entry. (Zoom allows you to record meetings, for example.)

3. Choose a story you heard during the interview that you really feel connected to.

- Maybe you are the same age as they were in one story, or you shared a similar experience or feelings, or you felt happy (or sad) when listening to a story. Whichever story you choose, one big reason should be that you can work with it creatively!

4. Create your interpretation of that story through words, music, visual or media arts as your contest entry.

Contest entries should convey:

- A real-life event that you heard from the person you interviewed
- A sense of the past time-period when the event occurred
- An emotional connection to Judaism
- An understanding of and connection to South Carolina Jewish history

Contest Format

Your contest entry may be produced on any of the following media platforms. Choose which one best showcases your creativity. (Examples of essays, podcasts, etc., that you can visit online are in the Background and Resources section, page 4.)

- YouTube video
- Written essay
- Written short story
- Podcast essay or story
- Videocast (e.g., story, song, dance, or other)
- Drawing or painting
- Visual arts story (e.g., comic book/graphic novel or other artistic representation)

Only one entry per person. You may include a piece of the actual audio/video interview in your entry if you feel it enriches your creative version.

Contest entries must:

- Be accompanied by a contest submission form (page 5)
- Be original
- Tell a good story within a 3-10 minute framework (no less than 3 minutes and no more than 10 to read, watch, or listen to your entry; 5 pages maximum for essays)
- Connect emotionally with readers/viewers/listeners
- Be portable (We must be able to either post your entry on the JHSSC website or link to your entry from the website.)
- Include a signed release from the person you interviewed (page 6)

All submission components must be original including music, photos, and artwork. Please be aware that music clips, photos, and images found online might be copyright or trademark protected and therefore not legally available to appear on the JHSSC website.

2021 Cash Prizes will total $1000

Cash prizes may be awarded as 1st, 2nd, and 3rd prizes among all entries or as equal prizes to different age categories depending on the entries received.

Submissions will be judged on content, creativity, how well the spirit of the contest is conveyed, and adherence to entry guidelines.

Timeline

Contest opens for submissions: January 4, 2021 Final deadline for submissions: Friday, April 30

Contest winners announced in May

Winning entries will be posted on our contest page at <http://jhssc.org/contest>

How to Submit Your Entry

Fill out the entry form on the final page of these guidelines. Send the form along with your entry (or with a link to your entry) by email to: jhssc2020@gmail.com

Interview Guidelines with Questions and Prompts

The interview as written may take about an hour, depending on how much your interviewee talks! You may want to go through the questions ahead of time and delete any ones to which you already know the answers. If you are interviewing a family member or family friend, you may want to add some questions of your own based on history you already know so that you can learn more details.

It's a good idea to take a few notes as you interview to keep track of what's been asked or answered (people usually don't think in a straight line, so their stories may jump around). Remember that you want to give the person enough time in between questions so that they have a chance to tell their best stories – that will help you create a great contest entry!

If you've ever conducted an oral interview for school, it might be helpful to review those assignment guidelines. If you're new to this, one way to prepare ahead of time is by checking out interviewing tips for "Conducting Oral Histories with Family Members" (they apply to friends and acquaintances, too). The overview gives great suggestions for being an active listener!

The following interview guidelines were adapted from the Jewish Heritage Collection oral interview guidelines, College of Charleston.

Interview Questions and Prompts

The following contain a series of main questions and prompts to get your interviewee to give more story details. Do give your person time to think and answer before prompting.

Roots

1. When and where were you born? When did your family arrive in South Carolina?

Prompts: Where did they come from? Why did they choose South Carolina?

2. Was anyone in your family a "pioneer"—that is, the first Jewish person in the community?

3. Who did you live with?

Prompts: Parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles? What were their names? What were their professions?

4. Were both parents Jewish?

Prompts: How did they practice their religion? How did they teach you about Judaism?

Growing up Jewish in South Carolina

5. How many brothers and sisters did you have growing up?

Prompts: Which one were you closest to? Where is he or she now?

6. What relationships from your childhood do you remember best? (family and friends)

Prompts: Who was most supportive of you? Can you tell me a story about that?

7. What stories from your childhood have you passed on to your children (or grandchildren)?

8. Where did you go to grade school? Were there other Jewish kids in your school?

9. What was South Carolina like then? Were people tolerant of each other?

Prompts: Did you talk with your parents about that? What did they say?

10. What childhood memories related to being Jewish stand out in your mind?

Prompt: You can tell me anything pleasant or unpleasant.

11. Did you go to religious school or synagogue? What synagogue/temple did you go to?

Prompt: What are some of your memories from there?

12. Where did you go to high school? What activities did you participate in and which did you like the most?

13. Who were your best high-school friends? Were any of them Jewish?

Prompt: Did it matter to you if they were Jewish or not?

14. Did you have a bar or bat mitzvah or confirmation? Did you belong to any Jewish youth organizations?

Prompt: What memories do you have of those?

15. How did your family celebrate the Sabbath? What religious holidays did your family observe?

Prompt: Was your family concerned about keeping its Jewish identity?

16. Have you lived in South Carolina all your life? (If they moved away, ask,) When did you move back, and why?

17. Are you married? How did you meet your spouse and when were you married? Did you have a Jewish wedding? (If they don't give details, ask,) What was your wedding like?

18. How many children do you have? Where do they live? (If they don't live in South Carolina, ask,) Would you like them to move here?

19. Are there any intermarriages or conversions into or out of the Jewish faith in your family? How do you feel about that?

The Changing Jewish Community

20. How is going to synagogue now different from when you were a kid?

Prompts: What rituals do you like better now, and which do you wish you could bring back?

21. How would you describe the relationship between Jews and gentiles in your community?

Prompts: Have you or your family experienced or been aware of any anti-Semitism nowadays? Do non-Jewish people in your community regard you as different?

22. Do you think of yourself as a Jewish southerner or a southern Jew? What's the difference, do you think?

Prompt: In your opinion, are there special challenges to being Jewish in the South?

Thank you for the interview!
